

School Newsletter Easter 2019

Dear Parent/Guardian

Spring is always a wonderful time of year, full of promise and anticipation as daylight hours grow longer, leaves are bursting open on the trees and gardens are full of colour. It is also a time to shake off the winter blues and look forward to the future.

Our Year 12 pupils are now in the last stages of preparing for their GCSE examinations. It is important that they grasp with both hands the opportunity to achieve to their very best ability. A robust and consistent revision plan is the key to success. I want to wish all our Year 12 pupils every success in the coming months.

Many varied and exciting activities will take place for all pupils in the summer term – all of which will enrich their educational experience.

I hope you enjoy reading this Newsletter which provides a snapshot of the various activities and achievements of our pupils over the past term.

I do hope you and your family have a most enjoyable Easter break.

Junk Kouture Success in Regional Heats

On Friday 1st March four City of Armagh High School students competed in the regional finals of Junk Kouture. Well done to all of the participants that took part and 'Good Luck' to Rachel Irwin on getting through to the All Ireland Finals in Dublin.

For the past 6 weeks, LSC pupils have been engaged in learning golf. Equipment has been given to the school for the pupils to continue to practice the sport, giving the pupils a chance to take the sport up as a hobby.

Mrs Todd and Mrs Livingstone continue to lead this year's Duke of Ed participants. The pupils have been to Tollymore Forest Park and Gosford Park and hope to undertake their final expedition in June.

For anyone who hasn't heard of the Duke of Edinburgh Award, it gives pupils the chance to do something completely new and improve on things they're already doing. It takes pupils out of their comfort zone and into a place where they'll push themselves and have amazing new experiences. Through the award pupils will build confidence, resilience, skills for work and friendship groups.
